Leading through the fog

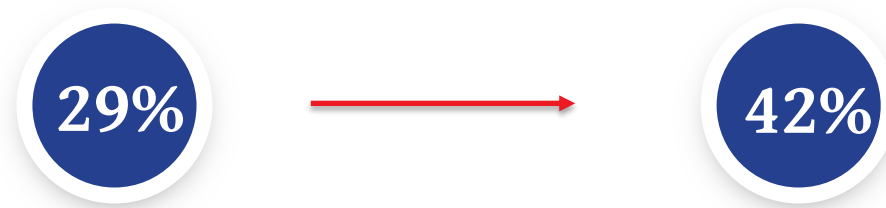

The screenshot shows the Fifty54Four website interface. At the top, the logo "Fifty54Four THE CAPACITY COLLECTIVE" is visible. Below it, a navigation bar includes "Welcome, Nina", "My Courses", "Recommended", "All Resources" (highlighted with a red box), "Bookmarks", and "Discussi".

The main content area features a circular diagram with 9 segments, each representing a dimension. The segments are labeled: 1. Leadership, 2. Mission & Vision, 3. People, 4. Communication & Identity, 5. Culture, 6. Operations & Finance, 7. Governance & Oversight, 8. Impact Management, and 9. Leadership. The text "Courses & Resources" is displayed, along with a description: "We've identified 9 dimensions, each complemented by a diverse collection of resources. Dive in by clicking on a dimension to understand its importance and explore the associated resources." An orange arrow points to the right.

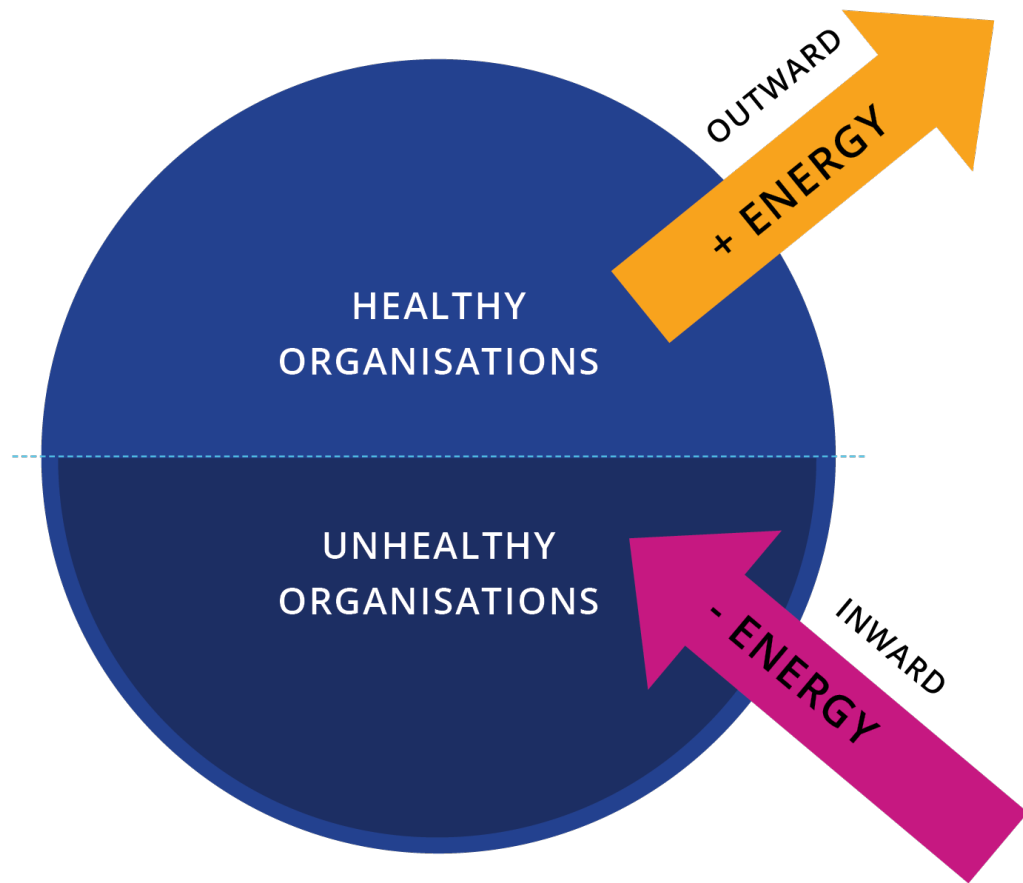

At the bottom, a dark blue navigation bar contains "Home", "About us", "Learn" (highlighted with a red box), "MY DASHBOARD", and "English" with a dropdown arrow. A dropdown menu is open under "Learn", showing "Courses", "Events", and "Assessment".

Energy Focus

When organisations are unhealthy, energy is sucked inwards, away from critical missional impact and into the organisation.

Definition

Leading through the fog means...

- I am trying to steer a ship when I cannot see what's ahead of me, conditions are constantly shifting, and every choice I make feels dangerous.
- "Fog" is the lack of certainty about one's capabilities, leadership and environment in trying conditions.

Liminality

- lat. limen and means "threshold" or "space in between"
- A liminal space arises when we leave the old and the experienced behind us and do not know what comes next.

On a scale from 1 – 10, with ten being the highest:

How much do you lead through the fog right now?
